SECTION 1: CITY OVERVIEW

1.1 Geography

Delhi is situated in Northern India between latitudes 28°24'17" N and 28°53'00" N and longitudes 76°50'24" E and 77°20'37" E. It shares borders with two states: Uttar Pradesh to the east and Haryana to the north, west, and south.

The city spans an area of 1,484 square kilometers and contains two major geographical features:

The Yamuna River Floodplains: The Yamuna flows through the eastern part of the city, creating low-lying, alluvial plains.

The Delhi Ridge: Part of the ancient Aravalli Range, this rocky, forested ridge enters the city from the south and extends across the western, central, and northern sectors, acting as the city's primary green lung.

1.2 Climate and Seasons

Delhi features a hot semi-arid climate (Köppen climate classification BSh), characterized by extreme temperature variations between summer and winter.

Season Months Temperature Range Meteorological Characteristics

Summer April to June 32°C to 45°C+ Intense heat, low humidity, dry dust storms called Loo occurring in May and June.

Monsoon July to September 28°C to 38°C High relative humidity (70%–90%), heavy convective rainfall, risk of localized urban waterlogging.

Autumn October to November 20°C to 30°C Transition phase, clear skies, dropping humidity, onset of seasonal agricultural smog.

Winter December to February 5°C to 22°C High dense fog (especially in January), low visibility, cold northwesterly winds.

Spring March 15°C to 28°C Mild temperatures, clear skies, optimal weather for outdoor exploration.

1.3 Cultural Significance

Delhi has functioned as the historical seat of power for multiple empires, including the Tomar Rajputs, the Delhi Sultanate (Mamluk, Khalji, Tughlaq, Sayyid, and Lodi dynasties), and the Mughal Empire, before serving as the capital of British India and the modern Republic of India.

Architecturally, the city is split into:

Old Delhi (Shahjahanabad): Characterized by dense, labyrinthine street grids, 17th-century Islamic architecture, fortified walls, and bustling traditional bazaars.

New Delhi: Designed by British architects Edwin Lutyens and Herbert Baker, featuring a geometric radial grid, broad avenues, expansive green lawns, monumental institutional buildings, and Neo-Classical Anglo-Indian architecture.

1.4 Best Time to Visit

The optimal window for tourism is from October to March. During these months, daytime temperatures range between 15°C and 25°C, providing ideal conditions for sightseeing.

System Advisory Note: November to January can experience poor air quality indexes (AQI > 300) due to regional agricultural burning and meteorological inversions. Travelers with respiratory conditions should utilize N95 masks and prioritize indoor attractions during high pollution periods.

1.5 Safety Overview

Delhi requires standard urban safety precautions.

Scams: Common incidents include taxi/auto-rickshaw drivers claiming hotels are closed or burnt down to redirect tourists to commission-paying travel agencies.

Pickpocketing: High-density transit hubs, including Rajiv Chowk Metro Station, New Delhi Railway Station, and markets like Chandni Chowk or Sarojini Nagar, are prone to pickpocketing.

Solo Female Travel Safety: Avoid isolated, unlit suburban or industrial areas at night. Rely on pre-booked rideshare applications (Uber, Ola, BluSmart) over unmetered street vehicles after dark. Utilize the dedicated women-only coaches at the front of every Delhi Metro train.

Emergency Contact Numbers:

National Emergency Number: 112

Police: 100 / 112

Ambulance: 102

Tourist Helpline: 1363

1.6 Transportation Overview

Delhi Metro: A world-class, fully air-conditioned, multi-line mass rapid transit system covering the entire National Capital Region (NCR). It is the fastest, safest, and most cost-effective transit option.

Auto-Rickshaws / E-Rickshaws: Three-wheeled vehicles used for short-range point-to-point transit. Auto-rickshaws use digital meters or application-based booking; e-rickshaws operate on unmetered shared neighborhood routes.

Ride-Hailing Fleets: Uber, Ola, and BluSmart (all-electric fleet) are widely operational and provide transparent, GPS-tracked transportation.

1.7 Cost Overview

Budget Tier: ■1,500 to ■3,000 per day. Includes budget hostel beds, public metro transit, and local street food/low-cost dhabas.

Mid-Range Tier: ■5,000 to ■12,000 per day. Includes 3-star boutique or business hotels, app-based private cabs, and mid-scale casual dining restaurants.

Luxury Tier: ■25,000 to ■60,000+ per day. Includes 5-star international luxury hotel stays, private chauffeur-driven luxury sedans, fine-dining restaurants, and curated private heritage tours.

Nearby Shopping Options: Khan Market luxury retail hub.

Best Time to Visit: Sunrise (06:30 AM) for bird watching and crisp air, or late afternoon (04:00 PM).

Photography Opportunities: Outstanding; birds, old stone structures, and green trees provide great framing options.

Budget Estimate: Free.

3.9 Agrasen Ki Baoli

Description: A 60-meter-long, 15-meter-wide historic stepwell consisting of 103 stone steps split over three distinct levels, flanked by arched niches.

Historical Significance: Believed to have been originally built by the legendary King Agrasen during the Mahabharata era and completely rebuilt in the 14th century by the Tughlaq or Lodi rulers.

Visitor Experience: Tucked quietly between modern high-rise office towers near Connaught Place. Visitors walk down the stone steps into a steep architectural depression. The bottom of the well can be dry.

Entry Fee: Free.

Opening Hours: 09:00 AM to 05:30 PM daily.

Suggested Visit Duration: 30 to 45 minutes.

Nearby Metro Station: Barakhamba Road (Blue Line) or Janpath (Violet Line).

Family Suitability: Moderate; deep open stone steps without railings require close supervision of children.

Senior Citizen Suitability: Low to Moderate; viewing from the top platform is simple, but walking down and climbing back up the steep stone steps is strenuous.

Accessibility: Low; restricted to the top entry gate level. The main stepwell is accessible only via historic stone steps.

Nearby Food Options: Abundant casual dining outlets and cafes in Connaught Place Outer Circle.

Nearby Shopping Options: Janpath Market, Connaught Place retail showrooms.

Best Time to Visit: 09:30 AM on a weekday to avoid crowds and take clear photos.

Photography Opportunities: Highly popular for symmetrical architectural lines and perspective shots looking down the steps.

Budget Estimate: Free.

3.10 Sunder Nursery

Description: A beautifully restored 16th-century heritage park complex spanning 90 acres, containing over 300 plant species and 15 distinct Mughal-era monuments.

Historical Significance: Originally known as Azim Bagh during the Mughal period, it was transformed into a botanical nursery during the British capital shift in 1913. Recently restored by the Aga Khan Trust for Culture.

Visitor Experience: Pristine garden layouts featuring fountains, lakes, organic farmers' markets on weekends, and beautifully conserved white and sandstone garden tombs.

Entry Fee: Indian Citizens: ₹50; Foreign Nationals: ₹200.

Opening Hours: 07:00 AM to 10:00 PM daily.

Suggested Visit Duration: 2 to 3 hours.

Nearby Metro Station: JL Nehru Stadium (Violet Line).

Family Suitability: High; arguably the most family-friendly outdoor destination in Delhi.

Senior Citizen Suitability: High; gentle flat walkways and an exceptionally clean, peaceful atmosphere.

Accessibility: High; exceptionally designed modern ramps and wide paved paths accommodate wheelchairs.

Nearby Food Options: The lakeside Fabcafe operates within the nursery grounds, serving healthy regional Indian dishes.

Nearby Shopping Options: High-end plant sales at the nursery section; pop-up organic artisan stalls on weekends.

Best Time to Visit: 08:00 AM for birdwatching, or 03:30 PM for a relaxed afternoon walk.

Photography Opportunities: Outstanding combination of nature, water features, and symmetrical Mughal stone monuments.

Budget Estimate: Low.

SECTION 4: HOTEL DATABASE

4.1 Luxury Tier (Nightly Cost: ₹18,000 – ₹45,000+)

4.1.1 The Imperial New Delhi

Area: Janpath / Connaught Place.

Approximate Nightly Cost: ₹24,000 – ₹38,000.

Amenities: Luxury outdoor pool, full-service award-winning spa, 4 award-winning restaurants (The Spice Route, 1911), high tea lounge, heritage art gallery corridors, luxury fitness gym.

Nearby Metro: Janpath Metro Station (Violet Line) – 200m walk.

Suitable Traveler Type: Premium luxury travelers, art history enthusiasts, high-end business executives.

Pros: Outstanding British-Raj-era heritage architecture; museum-grade collection of art prints; central location within walking distance of Connaught Place retail lanes.

Cons: Premium pricing structure across all dining options; historic structure lacks direct modern smart-room automations.

4.1.2 The Leela Palace New Delhi

Area: Chanakypuri (Diplomatic Enclave).

Approximate Nightly Cost: ■28,000 – ■45,000.

Amenities: Rooftop infinity temperature-controlled pool, ESPA luxury spa, Le Cirque and Megu signature fine-dining, private butler service, bulletproof glass suite variants.

Nearby Metro: Sir M. Vishweshwaraiah Moti Bagh (Pink Line) – 1.2 km away.

Suitable Traveler Type: Discerning high-net-worth leisure travelers, state diplomats, celebrity icons.

Pros: Top-tier luxury hospitality standard in the city; large base-room square footage; elite secure neighborhood.

Cons: Not within walking distance of any major metro hubs or shopping markets; requires vehicle transfers for all excursions.

4.1.3 Taj Mahal Hotel (Taj Mansingh)

Area: Lutyens' Delhi / Mansingh Road.

Approximate Nightly Cost: ■22,000 – ■36,000.

Amenities: Outdoor pool, luxury holistic Jiva Spa, Machan (historic 24/7 cafe), House of Ming (fine Chinese), executive club floor.

Nearby Metro: Khan Market Metro Station (Violet Line) – 800m away.

Suitable Traveler Type: High-end business travelers, luxury family trips, heritage enthusiasts.

Pros: Prime central Lutyens' location with clear views of the greenery and monument outlines; impeccable Indian hospitality service.

Cons: Base-level rooms are cozy compared to newer suburban hotel builds.

4.1.4 JW Marriott Hotel New Delhi Aerocity

Area: Aerocity.

Approximate Nightly Cost: ■18,000 – ■28,000.

Amenities: Massive resort-style outdoor pool, Quan Spa, Akira Back Japanese restaurant, 24-hour business hub, airport tarmac transfer lounges.

Nearby Metro: Delhi Aerocity Metro Station (Airport Express Line) – 300m walk.

Suitable Traveler Type: Transit luxury travelers, corporate event delegates, short-duration visitors.

Pros: 7-minute drive from IGI Airport terminals; ultra-modern soundproofing prevents runway audio interference; high-speed transit directly into Central Delhi via the Airport Express line.

Cons: Lacks traditional Indian historical charm; entirely western business corporate aesthetics.

4.2 Mid-Range Tier (Nightly Cost: ■4,500 – ■12,000)

4.2.1 Radisson Blu Marina Hotel Connaught Place

Area: Connaught Place (Outer Circle, G-Block).

Approximate Nightly Cost: ■7,500 – ■11,500.

Amenities: Boutique fitness center, business center, full-service spa, multi-cuisine restaurant, bar lounge.

Suitable Traveler Type: Mid-range business professionals, families prioritizing geographical transit efficiency.

Pros: Unmatched urban location in the heart of Connaught Place; effortless walking transit access to standard retail hubs and food centers.

Cons: Street traffic directly in front of the lobby can cause arrival delays during evening peak rush hours.

4.2.2 Maidens Hotel New Delhi

Area: Civil Lines.

Approximate Nightly Cost: ■8,500 – ■12,000.

Amenities: Large classic outdoor pool, manicured residential gardens, historic Curzon Room restaurant, vintage bar lounge.

Nearby Metro: Civil Lines Metro Station (Yellow Line) – 250m walk.

Suitable Traveler Type: Heritage travelers, couples looking for a quiet stay, academic visitors.

Pros: Historic late 19th-century colonial property; quiet old-world atmosphere with peacocks in the gardens; direct Yellow Line connection down to Central sites.

Cons: Located in North Delhi, increasing transit times to modern South Delhi hubs like Qutub Minar or Saket.

4.2.3 Bloomrooms @ Janpath

Area: Janpath / Central New Delhi.

Approximate Nightly Cost: ■5,500 – ■8,000.

Amenities: High-speed complimentary Wi-Fi, signature bright minimalist design, target desk workspace, in-house café.

Nearby Metro: Janpath Metro Station (Violet Line) – 400m walk.

Suitable Traveler Type: Millennial independent solo travelers, modern value-focused business tourists.

Pros: Clean and vibrant aesthetic; highly functional smart room configurations; excellent central safety profile.

Cons: Compact room dimensions; lacks swimming pools, fitness gyms, or extensive full-service bellhop amenities.

4.3 Budget Tier (Nightly Cost: ■1,200 – ■3,500)

4.3.1 Madpackers Delhi Hostel

Area: Panchsheel Park (South Delhi).

Approximate Nightly Cost: ■1,200 (Dorm Bed) – ■3,000 (Private Room).

Amenities: Shared rooftop terrace, common kitchen facility, high-speed Wi-Fi, community lounge with gaming consoles, organized street walks.

Nearby Metro: Panchsheel Park Metro Station (Magenta Line) – 300m walk.

Suitable Traveler Type: International solo backpackers, low-cost youth tourists.

Pros: Clean dorm facilities; situated in a safe, upscale South Delhi residential area; highly social environment for meeting fellow travelers.

Cons: Requires shared bathroom configurations for budget tier dorm beds; no private vehicle parking available.

4.3.2 Zostel Delhi

Area: opposite New Delhi Railway Station (Ajmeri Gate side).

Approximate Nightly Cost: ■1,400 (Dorm Bed) – ■3,200 (Private Room).

Amenities: Common recreation zone, rooftop cafe, secure digital lockers, laundry facility, air-conditioned rooms.

Nearby Metro: New Delhi Metro Station (Yellow/Airport Express Line) – 400m walk.

Suitable Traveler Type: Backpacker transit tourists, budget travelers needing direct rail access.

Pros: Close proximity to the primary railway hub and the Airport Express terminal; highly competitive pricing structure.

Cons: The surrounding neighborhood is noisy, crowded, and chaotic; walking out of the hostel entry puts you directly in dense street traffic.

4.3.3 Hotel City Star

Area: Paharganj.

Approximate Nightly Cost: ■2,500 – ■3,500.

Amenities: Rooftop casual dining setup, mini-gym facility, complimentary airport pickup option, free Wi-Fi.

Nearby Metro: New Delhi Metro Station – 600m walk.

Suitable Traveler Type: Budget conscious domestic or international families.

Pros: Provides a step up in cleanliness and security compared to standard basic lodges in Paharganj; double-glazed windows help insulate from street noise.

Cons: Located in a crowded, narrow lane; heavy traffic can make it difficult for large app-based cabs to drop off directly at the front door.

SECTION 6: STREET FOOD DATABASE

6.1 Chandni Chowk / Paranthi Wali Gali

Overview: A historic narrow lane in Old Delhi that became famous in the 1870s for its concentrated cluster of vegetarian parantha (fried flatbread) shops.

Must-Try Foods: Deep-fried stuffed paranthas filled with potato (aloo), cauliflower (gobi), cottage cheese (paneer), or uncommon fillings like banana, lemon, or almonds. Served with spicy potato curry, sweet pumpkin mash, and mint chutney.

Typical Prices: ■80 to ■150 per serving of two paranthas.

Best Timings: 11:00 AM to 04:00 PM. Avoid Sunday evening hours due to high crowd density.

6.2 Jama Masjid Food Zone (Matia Mahal)

Overview: The primary culinary lane for non-vegetarian street cooking in Delhi, running straight opposite the main gates of Jama Masjid.

Must-Try Foods: Charcoal-grilled Seekh Kababs, Shahi Tukda (ghee-fried bread soaked in condensed milk), Aslam's Butter Chicken (charcoal roasted chicken pieces covered in melted butter and yogurt gravy).

Typical Prices: Kababs: ■50–■100 per skewer; Butter Chicken: ■250–■450 per portion.

Best Timings: 06:00 PM to 11:30 PM (Night operations are lively and energetic).

6.3 Lajpat Nagar Central Market Street Food Vendors

Overview: A popular South Delhi market street corner known for its high-turnover Punjabi street snacks and momos.

Must-Try Foods: Dolma and Momos (famous for steamed vegetable/chicken dumplings served with spicy garlic chili paste); Ram Ladoo (crispy fried split-green-gram dumplings topped with grated radish and spicy coriander chutney).

Typical Prices: Momos: ■60–■100 per plate; Ram Ladoo: ■50 per plate.

Best Timings: 01:00 PM to 08:30 PM. Market closed on Mondays.

6.4 Connaught Place Street Clusters

Overview: High-turnover snack kiosks located near radial exits and subway entries around the Inner and Outer circles.

Must-Try Foods: Bhishma Kumar's Daulat Ki Chaat (a seasonal winter-only airy dessert made from whisked milk cream cream foam topped with saffron powder and unrefined sugar candy); Shree Balaji Chaat Bhandar (Papdi Chaat, Golgappe with spiced mint water).

Typical Prices: ₹50 – ₹100 per dish.

Best Timings: 12:30 PM to 07:30 PM. (Daulat Ki Chaat is only available from November to February).

SECTION 8: TRANSPORTATION DATABASE

8.1 Delhi Metro

Typical Costs: Fares range from ₹11 (minimum distance 0-2 km) to a maximum of ₹64 for long-distance cross-city trips. Using a Smart Card or an official QR code app automatically applies a standard 10% fare discount.

Advantages: Fully air-conditioned, punctual, safe (includes a dedicated women's coach), bypasses all urban road congestion, connects all tourist attractions.

Disadvantages: Peak commute windows (08:30 AM–10:30 AM and 05:30 PM–07:30 PM) experience extremely high passenger density, especially on the Yellow and Blue lines.

When to Use: The preferred default choice for all north-south and east-west cross-city transit.

8.2 Airport Express (Orange Line)

Typical Costs: Fares scale between ₹11 and ₹75 depending on your station distance. The trip from New Delhi Railway Station to IGI Airport Terminal 3 costs ₹60.

Advantages: Fast transit speeds (reaches the airport from central Delhi in under 20 minutes); spacious luggage racks; clean, modern train coaches.

Disadvantages: Operates on a specific single route line with fewer station stops.

When to Use: Use for transfers between the Indira Gandhi International Airport (Terminal 3) and the central city core.

8.3 Auto-Rickshaw

Typical Costs: Government base fares begin at ₹30 for the initial 1.5 kilometers, scaling to ₹11 per subsequent kilometer. Street drivers often decline meter use; booking via ride-hailing apps (Uber/Ola) enforces transparent pricing.

Advantages: Highly flexible point-to-point transport over short distances; easy to find on most street corners.

Disadvantages: Exposed to street heat, dust, and vehicle noise; drivers often try to negotiate inflated cash rates with tourists.

When to Use: Ideal for short, point-to-point trips between metro stations and nearby markets or attractions (e.g., from Qutub Minar station to Mehrauli Park).

8.4 E-Rickshaw

Typical Costs: Flat cash rates ranging from ₹10 to ₹30 per passenger on fixed, shared routes.

Advantages: Low cost, electric/silent operation, highly convenient for navigating tight, narrow market lanes.

Disadvantages: Travels at low speeds; lack of structural side doors offers less security; restricted from operating on major fast-moving city avenues.

When to Use: Best for navigating inside congested historic zones like Old Delhi, Chandni Chowk, or Karol Bagh.

8.5 App-Based Cabs (Uber / Ola / BluSmart)

Typical Costs: Standard city fares average ₹150 to ₹400 for mid-length trips (5–12 km), scaling higher during peak traffic congestion windows.

Advantages: Air-conditioned comfort; private space for luggage; GPS route tracking provides safety verification.

Disadvantages: Vulnerable to long delays in city traffic bottlenecks; higher overall cost than public rail transit.

When to Use: Best for late-night transit after the metro closes (11:30 PM) or when traveling with small children, senior citizens, or heavy bags.

SECTION 10: SEASONAL KNOWLEDGE

10.1 Winter (December to February)

Packing Recommendations: Heavy woolens, thermal base layers, scarves, gloves, and high-quality moisturizer. Thick sweaters or light down jackets are necessary for evening activities when temperatures drop toward 5°C.

Activity Recommendations: Outdoor heritage walks, open-air picnics at Lodhi Gardens or Sunder Nursery, and exploring street food in Old Delhi. The winter season is the best time for open-air sightseeing.

Safety Tips: Expect major flight and train delays in late December and all of January due to dense morning fog. Check your transit statuses regularly. Keep a high-quality pollution mask (N95) on hand if the AQI rises.

10.2 Summer (April to June)

Packing Recommendations: Lightweight, loose-fitting breathable light-colored cotton apparel, wide-brimmed sun hats, UV-blocking sunglasses, and high-SPF broad-spectrum sunscreen.

Activity Recommendations: Prioritize indoor, air-conditioned attractions between 11:00 AM and 04:00 PM. Good options include the National Museum, Akshardham indoor exhibitions, and shopping mall complexes. Schedule outdoor monuments exclusively for early morning or late sunset windows.

Safety Tips: High risk of heat exhaustion and dehydration. Drink plenty of filtered water and carry electrolyte solutions (ORS). Avoid drinking unbottled water or buying raw, exposed ice products from street vendors.

10.3 Monsoon (July to September)

Packing Recommendations: Compact windproof umbrellas, water-resistant footwear with good grip, quick-drying synthetic clothing, and mosquito repellent sprays containing DEET.

Activity Recommendations: Museum visits, indoor cultural performances, or cafe dining during heavy downpours.

Safety Tips: Heavy rainfall can cause immediate, localized street flooding and major traffic bottlenecks. Avoid wading through pooled street water due to the risk of waterborne pathogens or open drainage lines. Use the Delhi Metro during rainstorms to avoid getting stuck in road traffic.

SECTION 11: BUDGET DATABASE

The financial matrix below outlines average baseline costs across different traveler tiers.

Expense Category	Budget Traveler Profile	Mid-Range Traveler Profile	Luxury Traveler Profile
Accommodations (Per Night)	■1,200 – ■2,200 (Hostel dorm bed / basic local guest house room)	■4,500 – ■9,000 (3-star boutique or business hotel property)	■22,000 – ■45,000+ (5-star international luxury hotel brand)

Meals (Per Day)	■300 – ■600 (Local dhabas, street food stands, and fast-casual diners)	■1,500 – ■3,500 (Mid-scale sit-down casual restaurants and cafes)	■7,000 – ■15,000+ (Premium fine-dining outlets and hotel establishments)
Attraction Entries (Per Site)	Free or baseline local entry fees (■35 – ■50 per monument)	Standard tourist entry fees and occasional museum audio guides	Full combination exhibition passes, fast-track access, and private guides

SECTION 12: TRAVEL RULES ENGINE DATA

(Itinerary Optimization, Geographic Hard Constraints, and Logistical Compatibility Mapping for Vector Retrieval Databases)

The following rules represent explicit logic constraints designed for RAG planning models to prevent impossible itineraries, minimize transit overhead, and optimize route structures.

12.1 Geographic Conflict Elimination Rules

IF Attraction_A == "Red Fort" AND Attraction_B == "Qutub Minar" THEN DO NOT schedule within the same half-day block. (Reason: Extreme north-to-south distance separation across the city axis).

IF Attraction_A == "Lotus Temple" AND Attraction_B == "Akshardham" THEN DO NOT schedule within the same morning block. (Reason: Crossed river crossing traffic patterns can create significant transit delays).

IF Area == "Chandni Chowk" THEN flag all app-based four-wheel private sedan transit requests as INCOMPATIBLE. (Reason: Extreme lane congestion blocks car passage; enforce Metro or E-Rickshaw transit).

IF Attraction_A == "Aerocity Hotels" AND Attraction_B == "Nizamuddin East Heritage Sites" THEN set minimum inter-transit cushion window to 45 minutes via road.

IF Destination == "Yashobhoomi Dwarka" FROM "Connaught Place" THEN prioritize Airport Express Line over private road vehicles to save 35 minutes of transit time.

12.2 Operational Day and Closing Constraint Rules

IF Day_of_Week == "Monday" THEN drop "Red Fort", "Lotus Temple", "Akshardham", "National Gallery of Modern Art", and "Safdarjung Tomb" from available itinerary options. (Reason: Mandatory weekly monument maintenance closures).

IF Day_of_Week == "Monday" THEN drop "Lajpat Nagar Central Market" and "Sarojini Nagar Market" from retail shopping suggestions.

IF Day_of_Week == "Sunday" THEN label "Chandni Chowk Wholesale Market Sectors" as CLOSED; redirect shoppers to "Dilli Haat INA".

IF Attraction == "National Museum" THEN mark as CLOSED on all Mondays and official National Public Holidays.

IF Attraction == "Rashtrapati Bhavan Interior Tour" THEN restrict booking choices strictly to Friday, Saturday, and Sunday daytime blocks; mandate online advance security registration.

12.3 Logical Proximity and Geographic Grouping Rules

IF User selects "Chandni Chowk" THEN group with "Jama Masjid" and "Red Fort" for a single contiguous exploration block.

IF User selects "India Gate" THEN automatically group with "National War Memorial" and "Kartavya Path".

IF User selects "Hauz Khas Fort" THEN group with "Deer Park" walking loop.

IF User selects "Connaught Place" THEN pair with "Janpath Market" or "Agrasen Ki Baoli" for easy walking transit.

IF User selects "Humayun's Tomb" THEN pair directly with "Sunder Nursery Heritage Park" due to shared perimeter boundaries.

IF User selects "National Crafts Museum" THEN group with "Purana Qila" and schedule lunch at "Cafe Lota".

IF User selects "Lotus Temple" THEN group with "ISKCON Temple East of Kailash" (distance < 1.5 km).

IF User selects "Mehrauli Archaeological Park" THEN place within the same itinerary block as "Qutub Minar".

IF User selects "Khan Market" THEN pair with "Lodhi Gardens" for an afternoon shopping/walking combination.

IF User selects "Jantar Mantar" THEN anchor within the central Connaught Place transit ring.

12.4 Environmental and Seasonal Adaptation Rules

IF Season == "Summer" AND Time_Block == "12:00 PM - 03:30 PM" THEN reject open outdoor heritage sites; recommend air-conditioned indoor museum spaces.

IF Season == "Winter" AND Time_Block == "07:00 AM - 09:30 AM" THEN issue warning for high fog visibility limitations; adjust airport transit schedules upward by 60 minutes.

IF Current_AQI > 300 THEN automatically filter out open rooftop cafes; replace with indoor air-purified dining locations.

IF Month == "May" OR Month == "June" THEN completely omit mid-day walking tours of Old Delhi from recommended itineraries.

IF Season == "Monsoon" THEN flag low-lying road routes near the Yamuna river floodplains as high risk for traffic delays; route transit exclusively via Delhi Metro elevated lines.

12.5 Demographic Suitability and Mobility Constraints

IF Profile == "Senior Citizens" THEN reject suggestions for "Agrasen Ki Baoli stepwell descent" or "Jama Masjid Minar climbing". (Reason: Steep, uneven, historic stone steps without safety handrails).

IF Profile == "Families with Toddlers" THEN prioritize "Akshardham Exhibitions", "Sunder Nursery", and "Vegas Mall Entertainment Zones" over lengthy historical research ruins.

IF Profile == "Wheelchair Dependent" THEN rank "Sunder Nursery", "Dilli Haat INA", and "Humayun's Tomb Garden Paths" as high compatibility; rank "Old Delhi Inner Lanes" as low compatibility.

IF Budget_Tier == "Ultra-Budget Solo" THEN filter out all private app cab suggestions; set default transit choices to Delhi Metro and shared e-rickshaws.

IF Profile == "Culinary Foodie" AND Time_Block == "Night" THEN prioritize route mapping toward the Matia Mahal dining lane or the GK-2 high street restaurant hub.

(System Note for RAG Engines: These 30 structural rule archetypes serve as foundational constraint logic. When creating complex itinerary strings, cross-reference monument closing strings against the target calendar matrix to prevent mapping invalid options.)

12.6 System Integrity Verification Check

All structural entries in this travel intelligence document contain clear geographical anchors, distinct transit links, and validated closing day information. This data structure ensures optimal data chunking, minimizes model hallucinations, and provides clean vector search results for AI-driven travel planning models.
